Serring's Cordial.—To attempt to raise the reputation of this well known medicine for the cure of Dyspeysia, and the variety of Nervous Diseases, Headache, Sea Sickness, Los of Appetite, &c., by bringing forward testimony from individuals, may appear to some like a similar effort to prove Shakspeare a poet. Washington a patriot, or Henry Clay a wise statesman and lover of his country. Yet the cases are not parallel: for there is so much imposition practised in the present age to 'raise the wind,' in the shape of cure-alls, that it requires, be the article ever so good, the assertion of a respensible person that it is not of the humbug description, to give the doubting public confidence in it. With this view, we give the following excellent recommendation:

CHARLESTON, July 18, 1843.

Mr. C. C. Sebring: Dear Sir-It gives me pleasure to reply to your inquiries concerning your Restorative Cordial.

Thive used it for more than a year in my family, and have found it an efficacious and useful medicine. In averting and releving nervous and dyspeptic headache, it has proved very serviceable, and in complaints among my children they have experienced much benefit from it.

Several of my triends, to whose use I had recommended it, have testified strongly to the benefits experienced from it.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your ob't servant,

F. H. ELMORE.

The bulls in Harlem were horrified to-day by the explosion of a mine under their feet, supposed to have been dug by the bears. Mr. Law, the President of the Road, stated his intention of resigning his situation; and as this, it was supposed by some, would be a death-blow to the prospects of the road, and indicated what is supposed to be the philosophical reasoning of rats when deserting a vessel, some large operators began to sell for a fall. Sales were made after the Board at 39. After one of the heavy sellers had sold 1,000 shares, it was represented to him that very probably the whole was a mere ruse on the part of a certain party having influence in the road, who had sold short some 10,000 fall. This explanation served to stiffen the market some what, but there is still a good deal of fluttering among the bulls, and what will be the result is not known. Mr. Dykers (Dykers, Alstyne & Co.,) is spoken of to succeed Mr.

We are pleased to see the following remarks in a paper of such a leading character as the Philadelphia United States Gazette:—"The last week has been one of uncommon activity in the Stock Exchange. The most prominent feature has been the farther advance of Pennsylvania Loans. How ver distant the period of a redemption of the payment of interest may be, a general feeling prevails in the community that the honor of the State must be redeemed;—and we have not heard a breath from any quarter resembling the sound of Repudiation. The State tax is becoming more productive, and the country better able to pay it."

- COTTON Chop.—A gentleman writing from Mobile to a mercantile house in Savannah, under date of the 19th inst., says that the crop of Cotton in Alabama this year will reach at least 45,000 bales.

The Savannah Republican says: We were favored last evening with the perusal of letters from various parts of our State, and they all represent the crop as in a very flourishing condition. The fine, dry and hot weather is maturing the plant very rapidly, and there is now every prospect of there being as much Cotton made in this State as was ever made in any year previous to the last; and some writers think it will be even as large as last season, provided the frost keeps off till the 20th proximo.
